STEALING UR FEELINGS

An interactive story about your favorite apps, the content you consume, and your most private possession: your emotions

Face camera and check lighting

Begin

We'll need access to your device camera, but we'll never collect or store your data. We're serious about protecting your privacy Stealing Ur Feelings is for entertainment purposes only

Our home page starts to establish the relationship between your face, your device camera and the content you consume: On the left, you'll see yourself. We'll create a realtime AR filter using the live video from your device camera. This serves the dual purpose of validating your camera setup. On the right, you'll see a video loop representing a jarring juxtaposition of emotionally evocative content: School shootings, adorable kittens, Trump, hilarious memes, etc.

STEALING UR FEELINGS

An interactive story about your favorite apps, the content you consume, and your most private possession: your emotions

You're good to go!

Begin

We'll need access to your device camera, but we'll never collect or store your data. We're serious about protecting your privacy. Stealing Ur Feelings is for entertainment purposes only.

Once we achieve a positive face track (this happens instantaneously if you're facing your camera and reasonably well-lit), we'll adorn you with sunglasses and enable the button that starts the show.
